Where would we be without the U?

The University of Minnesota delivers more value to our state than ever before.

Alumni have created over 10,000 companies across all 87 counties in Minnesota, employing 500,000 people statewide and generating $100 billion in annual revenue.

Nearly half of Minnesota's science, technology, engineering, and math graduates are U of M-trained.

In 2007, almost 14,000 people earned a U degree, and over 66,000 people advanced their education in person and online at the U.

Last year alone, the U earned $675 million in research grants, providing vital innovations and over 25,000 Minnesota jobs.

Keeping the U strong helps keep Minnesota strong.
