

Safety and Security on Campus

Twin Cities | 2008

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Driven to DiscoverSM

It is absolutely critical for our students, staff, faculty, and visitors to feel safe when they are on campus. The University of Minnesota Police Department ensures the security of campus grounds and facilities, through regular patrols and through its partnerships with University departments and programs and the surrounding community. The University is committed to providing a safe environment for everyone who lives, works, and studies on campus.

Robert H. Bruininks

Robert H. Bruininks, President

The University of Minnesota, Twin Cities, encompasses 18 colleges, with more than 17,000 employees serving more than 50,000 students. The campus is one of the largest in the country. Safety is of paramount importance to us.

University of Minnesota Police Department

The University of Minnesota Police Department serves the Twin Cities campus and is responsible for all property owned by the University in the Twin Cities area. The department seeks to maintain a staff of 50 full-time officers who provide services in proactive patrol, crime prevention and investigation, law enforcement, and emergency response.

University police are licensed as “peace officers” by the State of Minnesota. Minnesota State Statute 629.40 gives peace officers statewide arrest powers while acting in the course and scope of employment. The department investigates all crimes that occur on University property. By working closely with federal, state, and local police agencies (including the Minneapolis and St. Paul police departments), the department strives to provide a safe environment for all students, staff, faculty, and visitors. When the department receives information about an off-campus crime that requires investigation, the department forwards the information to the proper municipality.

The department patrols the University community by squad, on motorcycle, bike, horse, and foot. In addition to patrol operations, the department utilizes the Community Investigator Division to investigate crimes and provide directed crime prevention and other support to the University.

The Community Investigator Division assigns a qualified officer to a geographical area of campus. Officers thereby become familiar with the area’s sections staff, faculty, and students and can monitor and respond more rapidly to crime and safety problems.

All 911 calls made from campus, including from cell phones, are received in the police department's dispatch center. The 24-hour 911 center is staffed with professionally trained emergency dispatchers.

The department's community investigator/crime prevention unit frequently gives presentations to residence halls, student groups, and faculty/staff units on personal safety and on crime prevention. The department is also invited to information fairs around campus throughout the academic year. If you are interested in a presentation for your department, group, or organization, call 612-624-COPS (2677).

Student Security Monitors

The department employs students as uniformed security monitors. Student security monitors provide escorts, routinely inspect exterior lighting and campus telephones, and provide building security. Security monitors act as the "eyes and ears" of the police department. They have no arrest powers, but are trained to determine when police should be called.

The Security Monitor Program provides building security for many buildings throughout campus. This security is provided at the request of University departments. The hours and responsibilities of security monitors for a building are determined by the requesting department.

Security monitors provide night security for all on-campus residence halls. Monitors are on-site from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. They work with the on-call staff to promote the safety of all residents. Monitors are trained to identify what situations require additional emergency assistance from police, fire, or EMS.

Security monitors are employees of the police department, are subject to a criminal background check before hiring, and undergo 30-40 hours of training.

Crime Prevention

Ensuring the safety of the University community is a group effort. We all must do our part. When working, visiting, or attending classes on campus, keep in mind the following:

- Report any suspicious persons or activities to the University police department.
- Do not leave valuables unattended or unsecured.
- Do not prop open entrances to buildings.
- Lock your work and living areas every time you leave.
- Report any maintenance problems to Facilities Management.
- Use the escort service rather than walk alone at night.
- Be mindful of your surroundings.
- Report lost access cards immediately.

Valuables Registry

Property theft is the most frequently occurring crime on campus. Stolen items are often never returned to the owner, and most thieves are not arrested. However, a big difference can be made in the return of property and the apprehension of criminals if victims know the make, model, and serial number of the stolen items.

Students, staff, and faculty at the University can now record information about their valuable property in a registry in their electronic portfolio account. This is an easy, convenient way to record property in a way that you won't have to worry about losing the information. Pictures and video of valuables can be uploaded to your account.

The registry lets you initiate a police report directly from your electronic portfolio. Simply select a few buttons and a report is sent to a police investigator.

For more information: www.umn.edu/police/safetytips/portfolio.pdf.

To start your registry, go to <https://portfolio.umn.edu/portfolio>.

Crime Reporting

Promptly and accurately report all crimes to the University police department or appropriate police agencies. The University police department is located at 511 Washington Avenue S.E. in Minneapolis. The main telephone number is 612-624-COPS (2677).

To report an emergency, dial 911. Be prepared to give the following information:

- Type of emergency
- Your name
- Your location and the location of the emergency (if different)
- Your phone number
- If applicable (e.g., after a crime), a description of individuals (gender, clothing, height, weight, hair color)
- If applicable (e.g., after a car accident), a description of vehicles (color, make, model, license plate number)

Make sure to wait on the line until the dispatcher tells you to hang up.

24-Hour Tip Line

The University police department's 24-hour tip line is 612-626-TIPS (8477). The line is a voice-mail box. Information can be left anonymously. If you do decide to leave your name and phone number, an appropriate person from the department will follow up with you if necessary.

Online Police Reports

Although we encourage individuals in our community to interact with us personally by calling 612-624-COPS (2677) or stopping by the department, we realize that some may find it more convenient to complete a report online.

If you are a victim of certain crimes or have lost property on the Minneapolis campus of the University of Minnesota, you have the option of completing an online police report. Once completed, the report will be made available to University of Minnesota Police Department (UMPD) personnel and it will be handled like any other police report.

Police reports that can be submitted online are the following:

- Theft
- Theft from motor vehicle
- Lost property
- Damage to property
- Damage to motor vehicle

Only incidents that occur on the east or west bank of the Minneapolis campus of the University of Minnesota can be reported online. Incidents that occur on the St. Paul campus cannot be reported online; call 612-624-COPS (2677) to file a police report.

Note that the Web site given is for the Minneapolis Police Department (MPD). This is because the UMPD utilizes the MPD's police report records management system. If the crime you are reporting occurred in a University building, make sure you select the landmark or building option on the page titled "Select Location of Incident." This will ensure that your report is routed to the University police.

The Web site can also be used to report an incident (of the five types of mentioned earlier) that occurs off-campus but in Minneapolis. In such a case, the report will be reviewed by the MPD. If followup is needed, someone from the MPD will contact you.

To submit an online police report, go to www.ci.minneapolis.mn.us/police/e-report.

Buildings and Grounds

The University controls access to its space by using traditional key systems, electronic card reader systems, and alarms. Key systems are used predominantly for practical and financial reasons. Individual responsibility and accountability is the primary method used to ensure that authorized people request, receive, and return control keys or cards as their duties dictate.

Anyone duplicating, possessing, or using access control keys or cards for University premises without authorization will be subject to disciplinary actions from the University or will be subject to criminal charges where appropriate.

Most campus facilities are accessible during the normal business hours on weekdays and are accessible for limited hours on weekends. Outside doors of newer University buildings are equipped with electronic card access control systems. Many older buildings are being retrofitted with such systems. Buildings are locked and unlocked by Facilities Management.

More than 200 campus phones are available for emergency, medical, and service-related calls. The campus telephones are located outside and housed in yellow boxes. The campus also features 20 easily recognized blue-light 911 phones.

Shrubbery and other vegetation posing a threat to visibility are regularly trimmed by Facilities Management.

Central Security

The Department of Central Security, which is part of the Department of Public Safety, provides 24-hour video surveillance and recording. Central Security works closely with the police department to provide timely information for officers when and where needed.

Central Security has a state-of-the-art monitoring center that utilizes the latest video and audio equipment to provide the campus with the safest environment and most unobtrusive monitoring possible.

Central Security monitors nearly 1,000 cameras in parking facilities, underground tunnels and passageways, pedestrian bridges, and selected other locations. Monitoring cameras are located in the open and are not hidden on purpose in any way.

Residence Halls

Safety in the residence halls is of great importance. The University of Minnesota has eight traditional halls and three apartment-style living facilities. The front lobby and entrance areas are open to the public on weekdays during the regular business hours (8 a.m.–4:30 p.m.). Living areas remain locked 24 hours a day. Guests and visitors may access residence hall living areas only when escorted by a resident of that hall.

The information desks in the lobbies of all residence halls and apartments are staffed 24 hours a day by office assistants and night managers. In addition, there are security cameras in the lobbies and at residential access points as well in other remote areas of the building.

Community advisors are on duty each night and do routine rounds from 4:30 p.m. until 8 a.m. Security monitors are on site and do hourly rounds of the building between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. Night managers, security monitors, and on-duty community advisors work together to ensure that safety and security needs are met during the evening and night hours. A residence director is always on duty for major emergencies 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Sorority and Fraternity Houses

All sorority and fraternity houses are located off campus and therefore fall under the jurisdiction of either the Minneapolis or St. Paul police departments. The University police department offers sororities and fraternities seminars on crime prevention, personal safety, and alcohol awareness upon request.

Information regarding the policies of the University's Greek system can be found at www.begreek.org/policies.html.

Parking Facilities

Parking and Transportation Services continually improves on-campus ramp, garage, and lot safety. Improvements include brighter lighting, more telephones, and state-of-the-art security systems. Most ramps and garages have closed-circuit television monitors. For more information, call 612-626-PARK (7275).

Located throughout several parking facilities are red emergency push buttons. These locations have a speaker that will connect you to a parking attendant at your location or, if they are unavailable, a member of the Central Security monitoring center. When an alarm is received, Central Security also receives an image of the location to help in identifying emergencies. University police are then notified if an actual emergency exists.

Emergency Notification

The University utilizes several methods to notify the campus community when an emergency arises. Those methods include information in the media; on the U's home page at www.umn.edu; through TXT-U, the U's text message emergency notification system; and through e-mail, tone-alert radios, and on-the-ground public safety personnel.

TXT-U Emergency Notification

TXT-U is the University's emergency notification text messaging system. Students, faculty, and staff can stay informed about critical campus safety information by registering to receive TXT-U messages.

Only University of Minnesota students, faculty, and staff can register for TXT-U. However, you can add more than one mobile device to your account, registering your parents, family, friends, or others.

TXT-U will be used infrequently and specifically for real emergency situations. To register for TXT-U, go to www.umn.edu/prepared/txtu.

Tone Alert Radios

A tone alert radio is a radio that is programmed to receive emergency broadcasts directly from UMPD dispatch. Information sent to tone alert radios includes severe weather warnings, chemical spills, bomb threats, civil disturbances, or any other immediate threat on campus. Many departments, offices, reception desks, etc., have a tone alert radio and pass information on to others in their area when they receive a message.

Timely Warnings

The University police department makes timely reports/warnings to the campus community for crimes that occur on University property or in areas adjacent to campus that are frequented by members of the University community. The alerts/warnings aid in the prevention of similar occurrences.

With approval from the chief of police or his or her designee, timely warnings may be electronically distributed to all Twin Cities campus students, staff, and faculty via University of Minnesota e-mail or may be distributed to a localized area of the University if it is determined that the threat is specific to a particular area. The alerts may include the following details (if available):

- Description of the incident
- Physical description of the suspect, including gender and race
- Composite drawing of the suspect
- Apparent connection to previous incidents, if applicable
- Protected class status of the victim, if there was an apparent bias motive
- Gender of the victim, if relevant
- Injury sustained by the victim
- Date and time the campus crime alert was released

The alerts will also be posted in an accessible area on the UMPD Web site and removed from the Web site when the threat is believed to have passed.

CrimeWeb.net

The University of Minnesota Police Department has signed on with CrimeWeb to offer crime alerts by e-mail to any interested person. CrimeWeb is a free, centralized Web-based clearinghouse designed to facilitate the timely and efficient exchange of public-safety-related information between law enforcement agencies and the communities they serve. For more information or to enroll, go to www.crimeweb.net.

Ureport (Confidential Reporting for Noncriminal Violations)

Reporting incidents of misconduct (e.g., misuse of University property or equipment; violation of safety rules; NCAA violations; misuse of University computers) by a University employee, coworker, or colleague can be difficult for employees.

You are not required to provide your name or other information that might identify you. The reporting Web site will not track the identity of the computer you use. If you choose to remain anonymous, the University may be limited in its investigation and response. If you do provide your name, or if your identity becomes known during an investigation, your name may need to be released to the person who is potentially responsible for the conduct. The University forbids retaliation against people who make good faith reports of violations of law or University policy.

Information you provide will be used to help determine whether there has been a violation of law or policy. Information may be shared with persons within the University if they have a need to know. Other persons, organizations, or agencies may obtain access to information if they have statutory or judicial authority to gain access.

For more information or to file a report, go to www.ureport.umn.edu.

Predatory/Sexual Offenders

Certain felony level sex and other predatory offenders are required by law to keep law enforcement agencies apprised of their current residence, employment, and school addresses, as well as any changes. In addition, some of these offenders have demonstrated by their past behavior that they are part of a group that poses the greatest risk to the public when released. This does not mean that they will commit a new crime, just that they are part of a group of persons who might.

State and federal law requires the University police department to advise the University community of the release or residence of such predatory offenders in our community. Such predatory/sexual offenders that are attending classes or are employed at the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities, can be found on the department's Web site at www.umn.edu/police/offenders.html. These individuals are not wanted by law enforcement at this time and have served the sentence imposed upon them by the court. The use of this information to threaten, harass, or intimidate such individuals may be a crime and will not be tolerated.

The Web site does not contain information regarding predatory sex offenders who live or work near, but not on, University of Minnesota property. A list of such offenders may be found on the Minnesota Department of Corrections Web site at www.corr.state.mn.us.

Victims Rights and Resources

You have the right to apply for financial help for losses resulting from a violent crime. This assistance does not cover property losses. For an application and information, call Financial Help, 651-201-7300 or 1-888-622-8799 (TTY 651-205-4827). If you feel your rights as a victim have been violated, call the Minnesota Crime Victim Justice Unit at 651-201-7310 or 1-800-247-0390.

You have the right to request that the law enforcement agency withhold public access to data revealing your identity. The law enforcement agency will decide if this is possible.

You have the right, if an offender is charged, to be informed of and participate in the prosecution process, including the right to request restitution (money court ordered from the offender and paid to the victim).

University of Minnesota Policy

Policy Statement on Sexual Assault/Relationship Violence

Policy 2.6.3, Effective May 2001, last updated July 2007

Sexual assault and relationship violence are prohibited at the University of Minnesota. Sexual assault and relationship violence, including threats of sexual assault and related relationship violence, are attacks not only on a person's body, but also on the person's dignity, and are not tolerated. To foster a community free from sexual assault and relationship violence, the University provides reporting options, including the police department; victim/survivor assistance; internal mechanisms for discipline and dispute resolution; prevention training; and other related services.

As a University and as a community, we strive to assure that safety and respect the dignity of each student, staff, and faculty member. While the Board of Regents Policy on Sexual Harassment prohibits conduct covered by this administrative policy, this policy establishes procedures for responding to incident involving sexual assault and relationship violence. The commitment of the entire University community to this policy contributes to our goal of creating a campus free from sexual assault and from other violence that may occur within a personal, intimate relationship.

Because reporting is the only way that action can be taken against an alleged violator of this policy, the University strongly encourages the reporting of sexual assault and relationship violence to appropriate officials. Timely reporting and a medical examination within 72 hours is critical in preserving evidence of sexual assault, and the ability to respond effectively, but a victim/survivor can report an incident at any time.

The University provides an array of on-campus services to victims/survivors, including confidential crisis intervention, health care, counseling, and related assistance, including changing academic programs and living situations (if requested and reasonably available). The University provides appropriate judicial/discipline processes that are supportive, fair, expedient, and respectful of the individual needs and rights of all involved. The University provides a variety of education programs and services to all members of the University community.

An electronic version of this policy and a listing of additional resources can be found at www.fpd.finop/umn.edu/groups/ppd/documents/policy/Sexual_Assault_Pol.cfm.

Official procedures on how to respond to incidents of sexual assault/relationship violence can be found at www.fpd.finop/umn.edu/groups/ppd/documents/policy/Sexual_Assault_proci.cfm.

The Discipline Process

Alleged violations of the conduct code (no matter how minor or severe) are matters of concern to the University. Allegations of such individual (or group) misconduct may be reported by the University police, University departments, individual students, faculty/staff, or campus guests. All allegations of conduct code violations are forwarded to the conduct code coordinator to determine (1) whether the alleged misconduct appears, as judged by available evidence, to violate the conduct code; (2) which item(s) in the code may have been violated, and (3) to which agency the complaint should be referred.

Student Hearings

If a disciplinary hearing is conducted, both the reporting party and the accused will be given the opportunity to have a support person with them during proceedings. If either party does not have a support person and wishes to have one, the Office of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity will provide the party with options to accommodate their needs.

Once the hearing is concluded and a determination made, the accused student will be informed of the outcome in writing, including information regarding access to an appeal if responsibility for a violation has been established. The reporting party will be informed verbally of any portion of the disposition that has a direct impact on them. The hearings are closed. Therefore the committee's actions will not be made public.

Sanctions that may occur as a result of a determination of a violation include a warning and admonition, required compliance, and probation, suspension or expulsion.

Additional information is available at www.umn.edu/usenate/committees/ccsb.html.

Drug and Alcohol Policy

Federal laws require the University to carry out a program to prevent the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illegal drugs and abuse of alcohol by its students and employees. The University prohibits the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of alcohol and illicit drugs by students and employees on all of its campuses and facilities, or as part of University-sponsored activities. It also prohibits the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of controlled substances in the workplace. The University's Drug-Free Workplace information can be found at www.fpd.finop/umn.edu/groups/ppd/documents/policy/Drug_Free.cfm.
